MISSION:

The United Way of Alamance County, as an organization of donors and volunteers, exists to support the community in addressing its human service needs. We strive to identify those needs, to educate and involve the community, and to acquire, organize, and allocate funds for the benefit of those with insufficient resources in a manner that ensures accountability and maximum effectiveness.

United Way of Alamance County confronts the challenges that are identified through input from people like you. United Way researches and studies the social needs of Alamance County's residents every four years and directs funding to services that will have the most impact.

Every dollar you donate matters. Because of United Way's direct involvement on issues that matter locally, the most effective and efficient way to change our community is through a gift to our Community Fund.

Our goal is to help children enter school ready to learn and to improve graduation rates; help families meet their basic needs and become financially stable; and help seniors maintain their independence.
