

Date: Monday, March 28, 2022
Time: 4:00 – 8:15 p.m.
Place: Belk Pavillion (Corner of E. Haggard & N. Antioch)
2nd Floor (Masks are required)
Food: Pizza, drinks and refreshments will be provided

(For questions or to register, e-mail Linda Dunn @ ldunn@elon.edu or call 336- 207-7686.)

This workshop is a fun, highly interactive opportunity to come together and examine what keeps us from understanding people who are different from ourselves. Workshop leaders were trained by the National Coalition Building Institute and have had years of experience in leading workshops. NCBI leaders have worked with churches, schools, universities, corporations, and community organizations locally, nationally and internationally.

Goals

LOOK at barriers that keep us from understanding and communicating with people who are different than ourselves
LISTEN to how our words and actions hurt others
LEARN ways to treat each other with respect
PRACTICE ways to interrupt prejudicial jokes, remarks and slurs

Trainers: Linda Dunn, NCBI Leader
Co-Leaders: Theresa Rogers, Marie Alston
(Elon Alumni)

Sponsored By: Peace & Conflict Studies

A workshop on appreciating and communicating about diversity